1. Description

In this tri junction area our college is known to be the oldest college in the field of education with prime motto to promote quality education in such a rural area. Our college believes that good research needs to be encouraged through appropriate incentives. Our college advocates that quality of research must receive priority over quantity of research under all circumstances and to achieve this the research work is evaluated by the peers and experts in the field based on their experience and by using journal metrics like impact factor and citation index. With the belief that research is a vital building block of the nation's development as well as education system, our college has an active and operative research committee that consistently works for research enrichment in the institute. The research committee motivates the faculty from time-to-time to be indulged in research work like journal publications, seminars, workshops, faculty development programs, webinars and undertake minor or major projects. Resulting from the combined efforts of the committee and the faculty two of the departments namely Department of History and Department of Hindi have undertaken research projects in previous years. The projects undertaken were titled as "Mapping Historical Places (Non-religious) of Malwa (Punjab)" and "Punjab Prant ke Malwa Kshetra main Hindi Bhasha ki Statithi: Ek Sarvekshatmak Mulyankan". Both the projects received financial assistance from University Grants Commission and were well executed.
